ABOUT THE AREA

St. Vincent and the Grenadines is a southern Caribbean nation comprising a main island, St. Vincent, and a chain of smaller islands. With yacht-filled harbors, chic private isles and volcanic landscapes, it's known for its major sailing destinations such as reef-lined Bequia Island off Admiralty Bay, bordered by white-sand beaches like Princess Margaret. The main island is home to the capital, Kingstown.

Mustique is a private island in the Caribbean archipelago nation of St. Vincent and the Grenadines. It's known for white-sand beaches like Macaroni Beach, Pasture Bay Beach and Endeavour Bay Beach. The North Point trail meanders through coastal areas inhabited by native seabirds. On the island's west coast, Britannia Bay is home to a collection of fruit stalls and small shops. Nearby is the tiny village of Lovell.
