TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

A stunning, multi-storey modern home in Hakuba, in the Japanese Alps, near the ski slopes of Happo Sakka, Designed in true Japanese-minimalist fashion with ample woodwork, full-length glass walls and sophisticated interiors, Hachi is straight out of a magazine. It is a luxurious, family-friendly accommodation with plenty of amenities such as a ski room, lounge, Japanese-style sunken bathtub, BBQ and a piano. The chalet is close to ski slopes, hot springs, and strawberry-picking farms. You can even avail the free transfers to Hakuba Village that runs from morning till late-night. Hachi has five, spectacular bedrooms that are fitted with modern comforts such as central air-conditioning and heating, plush double or twin beds for a night's rest and a TV lounge in the master bedroom. You will find that each bedroom allows spectacular views of the panoramas around Hakuba. For comfort, the bedrooms are furnished with either a study space or a chaise lounge. The other two bedrooms can accommodate children or teenagers. Four bathrooms, one of which comes with a Japanese-style bathtub. Hachi stands majestically amidst a gorgeous landscape teeming with a dense jungle that can be observed right from the comfort of the living room. Fire up the BBQ grill for some delicious, fresh food and the chef can even assist with the same. Skiing is the most famous activity here in Hakuba, especially with Happo One, the famous ski resort, so close to the chalet. Head over to natural hot springs for a comforting and relaxing soak in naturally-hot water.

ABOUT THE AREA

Japan is an island country in East Asia, located in the Northwest Pacific Ocean. It is bordered on the West by the Sea of Japan, and extends from the Sea of Okhotsk in the North toward the East China Sea and Taiwan in the South. Part of the Ring of Fire, Japan spans an archipelago of 6852 islands covering 377,975 square kilometers (145,937 sq mi); the five main islands are Hokkaido, Honshu, Shikoku, Kyushu, and Okinawa.

Honshu (本州, Honshu , historically called Hondo (本土, mainland), is the largest and most populous main island of Japan. It is located south of Hokkaidō across the Tsugaru Strait, north of Shikoku across the Inland Sea, and northeast of Kyūshū across the Kanmon Straits. The island separates the Sea of Japan, which lies to its north and west, from the North Pacific Ocean to the south and east. It is the 7th largest island in the world, and the 2nd most populous after the Indonesian island of Java Nagano Prefecture, in the center of Japan's Honshu island, is known for its mountains, hot springs and architecture. The capital, Nagano, is home to 7th-century Zenkō-ji temple, with a "hidden Buddha" statue whose replica is shown publicly once every 6 or 7 years. Its 16th-century Omine Castle is now a butterfly museum. The Togakushi district has ancient Togakushi Shrine and weapons at Togakushi Ninja Museum.

Hakuba is a village in the Japanese Alps, just outside the city of Nagano, which was host of the 1998 Winter Olympics. A winter sports hub, Hakuba encompasses mountain resorts with terrain for skiing, snowboarding and hiking. The Hakuba Ski Jumping Stadium, built for the 1998 games, is at the base of the Happo-one resort. Hakuba village offers a lively après-ski scene and hot springs
