The Carmona is a beautiful pre-roman village just 30 km from Seville in direction to Cordoba. In the heart of the historic centre, arriving at Santa María Church, to your left there is the Plazuela de los Lasso de la Vega, previous owner of the Plazula (little square) and this spectacular renaissanec Casa-Palacio, built in 1561, and refurbished as a luxury hotel in 1991. The palace has a joyful, elegant and calm ambiance. The rooms are all luminous and spacious, but different in size, form and decoration, with very good taste, excellent fabrics, antiques and original prints, and all of the elements of moder comfort, updated. At the Loggia, a vaulted terrace by the pool, enjoyable breakfasts are served from spring to autumn, and you will also be able to enjoy the 4 Patios, the Arab Garden, the elegant Library and Chess Living room, and an endless number of beautiful details. Finally, our restaurant Gracia, very elegant, is specialized in the best wild fish and ecological greens, in healthy food, at once excellent and without pretension, and a welcoming "Felipe's Bar", with frequent and select flamenco nights. Villa Anna enjoys a stunning Cap Martinet location, delivering every luxury in sophisticated privacy to ensure a blissful Ibizan escape.

The country's mainland is bordered to the south by Gibraltar; to the south and east by the Mediterranean Sea; to the north by France, Andorra and the Bay of Biscay; and to the west by Portugal and the Atlantic Ocean.

Andalusia is the southernmost autonomous community in Peninsular Spain. It is the most populous and the second-largest autonomous community in the country. The territory is divided into eight provinces: Almería, Cádiz, Córdoba, Granada, Huelva, Jaén, Málaga, and Seville. Its capital city is Seville. The seat of the High Court of Justice of Andalusia is located in the city of Granada. Andalusia is located in the south of the Iberian Peninsula, in southwestern Europe, immediately south of the autonomous communities of Extremadura and Castilla-La Mancha; west of the autonomous community of Murcia and the Mediterranean Sea; east of Portugal and the Atlantic Ocean; and north of the Mediterranean Sea and the Strait of Gibraltar.
